

NICK ELBOROUGH

Editor CV

Nick has a wealth of credits and experience in a whole range of programme genres. His creative excellence and eye for detail is complemented by an easy grasp of the total concept and an ability to combine off-line and on-line elements to create the finished programme. Nick is well known for his skill in thinking through problem projects where budget and schedule might not be ideal and pulling them off with flair. (He also enjoys projects where schedule and budget are ideal!)
